

What can be configured?

Xray is a very flexible tool that you can customize to your specific scenario.

As Xray uses Jira issue types, you can benefit from all Jira features in terms of configuration, such as:

- Creating new custom fields
- Configuring workflows
- Setting specific permissions
- Configuring notifications

Xray offers you specific configuration items like:

- Configuring Test Steps Fields
- Configuring Test Run Fields
- Configuring Coverage Settings
- Customizing Test Status & Test Steps Status

You don't need to perform these configurations in order to work with Xray, these are extra customizations that can improve your experience with Xray!
