

1.7.0 Release Notes

The Xray team is proud to announce Xray Exploratory App for Windows, Mac, and Linux version 1.7.0.

This version is all about time. An exploratory test session or any test sessions should have a time scope, right? So now you have it. What's new?

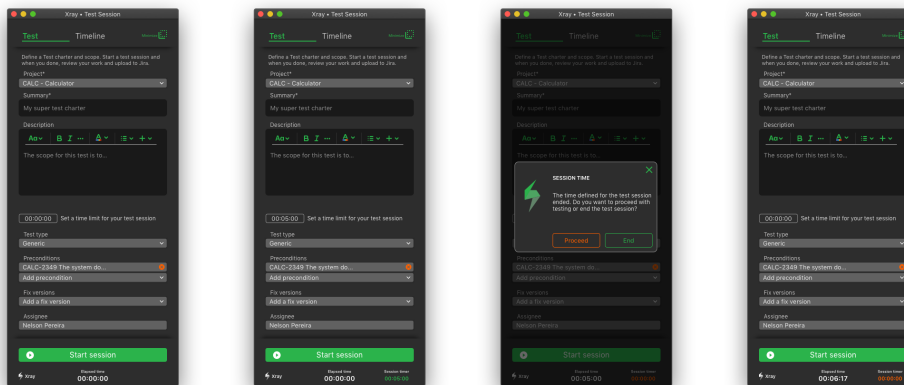

New installation requirements

Note that since version 1.4.0, the Exploratory App requires Jira Server and Data Center version 8.4.0 or higher.

Release highlights

- You can set a timer for any test session of any project. This time will be displayed during the test session and will launch a warning when it ends. You will also get the PDF report updated with the defined timer and elapsed time.

- Many bug fixes and compatibility improvement with Jira/Xray Server and DataCenter.
